Japanese screens in great confusion I could not see anything. The ornaments over the various doorways represent scenes in Chinese life done in waxwork. The whole, though just now in a quite unfinished state, shows what a large amount of money time and labor have been spent on the reception of the Emperor. The various halls belonging to the C. N. Co., G.M.S. N. Co., Jardine's and McCallum's, the latter two being only penthouses, are to be decorated with flags and it might be hung with lamps.—Daily News correspondent.

CHUNGKING.

15th—March.

Spring comes on space and in a few days more the poppy fields will be a mass of red, white and variegated flowers. Rain, which held off for several weeks, comes just in time to save the plants from dryness, and by the middle of what was a very fine spring, the weather is quite comfortable, and other sections are given, the total for Australia, not including New Zealand, is undoubtably close to 10,000,000 oz.

The lead output of New South Wales was 11,500 tons.—The prospects are that the lead and silver output of the country will still further increase during the year, and at the beginning of 1890 the Broken Hill Proprietary Company was producing silver at the rate of about 140,000 oz per week, which had been increased by the end of the year to 160,000 oz, and it is estimated that this company may produce 160,000 oz per year, provided the water supply is sufficient.
